JUNE/JULY, 1994

THE FIRST ANNUAL LESBIAN FILM FESTIVAL

SACWN will hold its First Annual Film Festival on June 10, 1994, at the Clarion Hotel in Sacramento. Four recently released short films written and produced by lesbians will be shown. The featured films include the following:

WAR ON LESBIANS by Jane Cottis is a witty critique of the invisibility of positive images of lesbians and a satire of talk show television and radio self help programs. It features supposed experts in sexuality being interviewed by a talk show anchorwoman. Intercut with these interviews are actual recordings of a radio talkback therapist and documentary interviews with lesbians. In a bright and savvy way, WAR ON LESBIANS reveals how far many of the myths about lesbians are from the truth.

RULES OF THE ROAD by Su Friedrich tells the story of a lesbian love affair and its demise. It focuses on one of the primary objects being shared by the couple - a beige stationwagon with fake wood paneling along the side -

FROM THE STEERING COMMITTEE

Ten years ago, in October of 1984, SACWN was born. Imagine, SACWN is a decade old! This calls for a major celebration and that is just what we are planning for Saturday, October 29, 1994.

Celebrating ten years of continual service to the lesbian community in Sacramento is an absolutely amazing accomplishment. Can you name a lesbian bar or business that has survived ten years in Sacramento? SACWN survived because hundreds of women donated thousands of hours of leadership and hard work to define an organization that worked to meet the needs of its members. And because of you, our supportive subscribers.

SACWN has changed and evolved organizationally over the past ten years. It began with a volunteer board of directors that coordinated all of the administrative responsibilities. Part time staff was hired in 1987, and since 1992, SACWN has been run, under contract, by an association management firm.

But let's go back to the beginning again. We want to honor our founding mothers and charter members in October. Will you help us identify and locate those visionary women? Do you have memorabilia or pictures from early events? If you were involved in the beginning, would you write your recollection of the first SACWN meeting you attended? Please give the SACWN office a call at 451-8034 with any ideas and information that you may have.

One founding mother of SACWN and a woman who has been a vital part of SACWN activities over the entire ten years is Jayne Rountree. Jayne is fighting the reoccurrence of cancer, and is scheduled for surgery at Mercy General Hospital (4001 J Street, 95819) on May 31st. She may still need blood donors (must be type B+) and surely would welcome cards from her many SACWN friends. If you are able to donate blood for Jayne, call the SACWN (451-8034) office as soon as possible.

Jayne has been a breast cancer activist for many years, participating with the American Cancer Society in the publication of a directory that identified cancer services in the greater Sacramento area. She reminds each of us to have a mammogram regularly.

Our thoughts are with you Jayne, and we are holding you close in our hearts.

SACWN CALENDAR FOR 1994

Friday, June 10, 1994 SACWN LESBIAN FILM FESTIVAL

Clarion Hotel, Sacramento

Four lesbian made films will make their Sacramento debut at our First Film Festival. Each has a differing slant on lesbian life, our history and our fantasies. These recently released films include:

Rules of the Road by Su Friedrich

War on Lesbians by Jane Cotts

L is the Way You Look by Jean Carlomusto and Rosebud by Cheryl Farthing.

the typical American family car for the atypical American family. RULES OF THE ROAD takes a whimsical and somewhat caustic look at how dreams of freedom, pleasure, security and family are so often symbolized by the automobile.

L IS FOR THE WAY YOU LOOK by Jean Carlomusto is a playful exploration of lesbian history and the women who have served as role models and objects of desire for young lesbians - from Martina Navratilova to Madonna, Simon de Beauvoir to Fran Lebowitz, Angela Davis to Dolly Parton, Patti Smith to Reno. L IS FOR THE WAY YOU LOOK is an humorous and entertaining short video, grounded in a well-informed analysis of image politics.

ROSEBUD by Cheryl Farthing is a beautifully shot drama about a young artist Kay who moves into a new apartment and finds herself unexpectedly drawn to the open sexuality of the lesbian couple next door. This film is a sexy short about desire and voyeurism produced for the British Film Institute.

Paulette Jacobsen has started another "career" - this time she's written a book. And the book may make Paulette and her co-author, friend and business partner, Tony Ferrante very successful.

Our successful SACWNITE, Paulette Jacobsen was born and raised in San Fernando Valley. In high school, she was involved in little theater for children along with classmates Sally Field and Cindy Williams. After a few years in college, she switched to beauty college and learned the trade of hair cutting. "I've owned hair salons since 1967. Its been great. Having my own shop, making my own hours, has allowed me to do the things I enjoy."

In 1990, Paulette started "Shades of Diversity," a company that provides training seminars to the corporate business world. "Shades looks at the gay community in a thought provoking and non-threatening way. Using humor and sensitivity type training, I assist companies and their employees in dealing with internal prejudice and homophobia."

Paulette has been speaking on college campuses for the past ten years. "My presentations now are the response to years of questions from college audiences. They have forced me to consider answers that make sense to me as well as them. They have helped create a presentation that I could not have developed on my own. I am moved by my audiences when it becomes visible by their body language that the begin to 'get it' - I talk about judgement and ask what right anyone has to judge others. We should be about our business, love ourselves, then others.

SUCCESSFUL SACWNITE

Loving is a calm and peaceful way to live our lives."

"I ask audiences - How does who I love affect your life? For the business world, those judgements made by employees about other employees, reduce the productiveness of the entire company. Reducing prejudice is good for the bottom line as well as the individual employees."

From her many years on the speaking circuit, Paulette began to assemble the questions and answers of prejudice into a book. "At first, the book was just a boring give and take - but then we saw examples of more interactive books and we threw out the manuscript and started again. Using correspondence only, letters, postcards, journal entries, we wrote a coming out story of two people who were lovers in college. The book begins with a "Dear Jane" letter from the male character, as he begins to deal with his sexual identity and tells her that their affair is over."

"Letters from the Closet" incorporates art in a symbolic and almost child-like manner. At first appearance, it resembles a pop-up book. The book is being printed in China and will be ready for distribution in July. It will be available in mainstream bookstores across the country. Plans are already under way for a sequel to the book.

When asked about success, Paulette responded, "My whole life has been successful. I have had the opportunity to be creative, to share and give to others. I have wonderful family and friends. I couldn't ask for more. To me, feeling in sync feels incredibly successful. It is all coming together for me and I feel connected to the universe in a spiritual way. I hope to continue to give in a creative and loving way that is supportive."

SACWN SAYS....

THANK YOU TO TOP TEN-ER'S - This is a thank you letter to all of you wonderful women who have opened your house for our meetings. Anita, thank you for your great pool party last July. I am sure we will have another great party this coming August 14th! Ariel, thank you for your delicious dinner. We had fun playing games. Hope we can do it again. Betty, the pot luck at your house was a great success. Some of us stayed longer and enjoyed the hot tub! Dot, thank you for a wonderful concert. We sang to the accompaniment of Marilyn' accordion. Special thanks to the professional flautist, pianist and guitarist. It was wonderful. Karen, thanks for sharing your home with us. Dee, thank you for organizing the picnic pot luck at the park. Too bad the weather kept some of us at home. The brave ones had a great time. Dee, thanks also for updating the phone list. And a special thank you to anyone I missed who shared their home with us this year. See you in July.
Your Facilitator, Lise!

CAMP SISTER SPIRIT FOUNDERS IN SACTO - Brenda and Wanda Henson are lesbians who have lived in Mississippi all of their lives. They are the founders of Camp Sister Spirit, a feminist educational and cultural retreat under construction in Overt, Mississippi.

The local townspeople of Overt are trying to run the Hensons out of town. They hung a dead dog from the mailbox and made death threats. Nightly gun shots have been heard across the Henson land. They state that the "Hensons will recruit girls and women to lesbianism." These threats have compelled Attorney General Janet Reno and the Justice Department to intervene, citing authority under the civil rights laws.

Brenda and Wanda will be in Sacramento in early June. Several benefits will be held on their behalf to raise funds and show support for their work. (See Calendar on Page 4.)

HELP NEEDED FOR FREEDOM FAIR - Stop by the SACWN booth at the Freedom Fair on June 11th. Say hello and introduce yourself. Consider staffing the booth for an hour. (It is a great way to meet women!) Call 451-8034 to discuss!

A NEW LOOK FOR THE NEXT DECADE - We are looking for a lesbian artist to develop a new logo and "style" for our second decade. Call 451-8034 to discuss the particulars.
